

Green Built Home Membership - A Great Investment of Green

Although anyone is able to register a home in the Green Built Home program, builders and remodelers who are members of the program receive benefits that go well beyond the yearly membership fee. Position yourself as a leader in the green building area by being an active MEMBER of Green Built Homes.

Any builder who joins the Green Built Home will receive a tremendous value in both marketing as well as reduce home registration fees.

Members benefits include:

Website listing:

There are over 1,000 unique visitors to the Green Built Home website every month. Ensure that they see your company's name and website link by becoming a GBH member

GBH Logo Use:

Promote your green initiatives and distinguish your business from your competition by using the Green Built Home logo as part of your promotional materials. Only GBH members can use the logo independent of a Green Built Certified home promotion.

Marketing Materials:

GBH members receive a supply of program checklists and informational brochures every year to use to help promote your green building. In addition, you have the option to purchase low cost builder signs and other materials, only available to GBH members

Reduced Per House Registration:

GBH members save 50% on every home they register. Your per home fee will be only $75 per house as a GBH member.

All these benefits are available for a low fee of $400 per year. Join today and start reaping the benefits that come from marketing your green initiatives.
